by Mary J Hammett

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Hi, I'm Mary!

Hi, I'm Mary J. Hammett.

I'm a retired teacher who began learning online business after retirement. Like many beginners, I tried different courses, tools, and programs before realizing that not every opportunity is the right fit. Over time, I learned that the best place to start is with something simple, practical, and connected to your own interests. That is why I enjoy helping beginners explore digital products, online marketing, and gentle ways to build a business from home.

My hope is that this guide helps you choose a niche that feels right for you, avoid confusion, and take your next step with more confidence.

Good luck, and follow your dream!
